Hinuma Nature Park

Drawing on the natural topography of the area, the park is a place where the visitor can experience close-up the flowers and plants of the four seasons. The vast area features a diverse array of open spaces and campsites, which means there is something that everyone wants to do.

Oyazawa Park

This is a spot for the magnificent views of the rising and setting suns. From the adjacent campsite, the visitor can take in an elegant moment of simultaneous views of Lake Hinuma and Mt. Tsukuba. There is also a stone tablet here denoting Tokugawa Mitsukuni, second lord of the Mito Domain (affectionately known as Mito Komon), at the site of the Lone Pine of Oyazawa, which is associated with the Tokugawa.

Agake Park

From here the visitor can take in a panoramic view of Lake Hinuma. Also from the bird-watching platform, one can observe water fowl such as the scaup.

Lake Hinuma

Hiroura Park

This park offers vast sandy beaches from which the visitor can take in a view of Lake Hinuma in its entirety—and it's also popular with fishermen. There is also an adjacent camp, barbecuing, and opportunities for water sports. This spot is also know for the autumn moon at Hiroura, one of the traditional eight spectacular view of Mito.
